

> stationery

Take Note

Handwritten notes have their place, as evidenced by the myriad note card styles available, from art-inspired to humorous. This year's note card debuts, whether individual or in sets, are colorful, whimsical and designed to add that personal touch to any communication. —D.F.

A Notecards in a Tin feature 12 Chroma assorted blank notecards in a cream enamel tin. Cards come in four designs. Envelopes are printed inside with black and white spots. Cards are 5½"x5½". $22.50. Caroline Gardner. 843.815.2289. carolinegardner.com
CIRCLE # 863

B When a longer note is necessary, Hataguchi comes through with boxed sets of larger cards—4½"x6½". Handmade from 100% recycled paper, 10 cards and envelopes come in a reusable handmade box. Hataguchi, thorough Karen Alweil Studio. 213.746.5363. karenalweilstudio.com
CIRCLE #864

C Designed for a quick greeting, lunch invitation or a simple 'hello,' Memento Boxed Notes from Mudlark are designed to always have on hand. Once all notes have been sent, the keepsake box can be used for mementos, recipes or photos. Box of 20 notes and envelopes. $14. Mudlark. 888.683.5275. madisonparkgroup.com
CIRCLE #868

D All Typed Out. When email just won't do, Matrick & Eve offers notecards for that. Flat stationery with a hand striped design and old-school typewriter. Coordinating lined envelopes included. Set of 12. $19. Matrick & Eve Designs. wholesale@matrickandeve.com. matrickandeve.com.
CIRCLE # 865

E Moth boxed note cards from Pickett's Press feature an embossed moth and coordinating lined envelopes. Printed on 100% cotton paper. 5"x6¼". Set of 10. $42. Pickett's Press. 917.742.5388. pickettspress.com
CIRCLE #867